

Glenda Luke

About the designer...

Glenda Luke specialises in Yoga garments and active wear. After gaining a degree in Fashion and Textiles from Nottingham Trent University, she took up designing yoga clothing when she herself started practising yoga and Tai Chi. As a practising designer for over 10 years, she also lectures in fashion and textiles at Fashion Awareness Direct (FAD), in collaboration with The London College of Fashion (LCF), and The Hackney Community College.

For the second year (2006) at the Yoga Show, Glenda continued the Sun Ray range, which received praise and produced substantial orders, which also included private consultations with clients.

Glenda's Spring/Summer 2007 exclusive collection are designed and hand made in England. They will be available next spring made using Organic Cotton blend fabric in a range of colours and sizes – small, medium and large.
